The felony prosecution course is an intensive three-day program designed for deputy district attorneys transitioning into or recently assigned to felony caseloads. This course provides a comprehensive roadmap for navigating the complexities of a felony docket.

Built around a single, complex case study that serves as a continuous thread, the curriculum provides a 360-degree view of the prosecutorial process, from the first filing to the final verdict. Participants will engage in deep-dive sessions addressing the critical legal, ethical, and strategic challenges unique to felony-level practice.

Register online by June 19th via the CDAC training calendar or by following this link:
